

The Canadian Fuels Association is teaming up with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce

For almost 100 years, The Canadian Chamber of Commerce has been 'The Voice of Canadian Business,' representing more than 200,000 business of all sizes and in all sectors across the country.

As 'The Voice of the Transportation Fuels Industry', The Canadian Fuels Association is proud to become a member of the Canadian Chamber and work together on issues and policies related to energy transformation and the way we move people and goods in Canada.

At this moment, there is no more important national challenge and opportunity than charting a successful plan for Canada's pandemic recovery. While the response to COVID-19 is not over, Canadian governments and businesses have begun to turn their attention to the future and the potential of a post-pandemic world.

Both organizations are stepping up as forward thinkers on this topic. The Canadian Fuels Association's latest declaration on the transportation fuels industry's critical role in the pandemic recovery and beyond, along with Canadian Chamber's Roadmap to Recovery outline sensible and affordable ideas for Canada to develop a strong, resilient economy while continuing to pursue our national environmental objectives.

The Canadian Fuels Association sees remarkable change ahead. Together with partners like the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, we will power Canada past the pandemic and toward a better future.
